

ONLY sign language interpreters certified by the NAD or by the RID should be allowed to interpret for Video Relay Service calls. Any other qualifications are not sufficient to ensure basic communication accessibility.